NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Wendell Willkie scheduled three broadcasts today to wind up his extensive, intensive campaign for the presidency after urging every voter to cast his ballot and promising that his first message to congress, if elected, will ask a constitutional amendment against the third term.

The Republican presidential candidate also denied—apparently in answer to a statement of R. J. Thomas, president of the automobile workers' union—that he had ever discussed with or offered a cabinet position to anyone or authorized anyone to do so.

Three Broadcasts

Willkie will broadcast at 3:15 this afternoon to the women of America; again at 10:15 p. m. with his running mate, Senator Charles McNary of Oregon, and Rep. Joe Martin, his campaign manager and Republican national chairman, and again at midnight with a cast of his supporters in the entertainment world.

Having seen 10 per cent of America's population in his coast to coast campaign and talked to most of them in person as well as to the millions of the radio audience, Willkie was satisfied today that he had

Building activity in the Neshannock township area, just across the city line, continues to develop. Eight or ten new homes have been started recently and are in various stages of construction at present.

Members of the animal and feathered kingdom seem to know when the hunting season arrives and when to migrate to safer quarters. City firemen Harry Colley, of North Mercer street, went hunting on the opening day, and with adverse weather conditions prevailing, had only one or two shots at game. On returning home, he happened to look out into the backyard, and there strutted a flock of ring-necks, which included three cocks and about seven or eight hens. The birds had been noticed in the neighborhood before, Colley states.

ATHENS, Nov. 4.—Spectacular new Greek advances in Italian-held Albania and defeat of two Fascist thrusts in Greek territory were announced today by the Greek high command.

At the same time, it was stated that three Italian planes were shot down by Anti-aircraft batteries and that a fourth was badly damaged and believed to have crashed.

Italian Planes Attack

It was conceded, however, that Italian planes had carried out a series of attacks, including a raid on the Greek Aegean port of Salonika, where some casualties, including several deaths, were caused.

"A fresh range of hills in Albanian territory was captured," the Greek war communiqué stated.

"An Italian attack, supported by tanks, on the Epirus front was repulsed and nine tanks were destroyed.

"Heavy enemy attacks on the Florina sector were repulsed with grenades and bayonets.

Lewis Predicts Willkie To Win

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—CIO Chairman John L. Lewis today predicted the defeat of President Roosevelt and election of Wendell Willkie as president.

The CIO chief said his prediction was based on conclusions reached with a conscious effort to eliminate "wishful thinking" from his calculations. Those conclusions, he said, came from dozens of reports from CIO field men, and from a careful analysis of the thousands of letters and telegrams received after his recent radio speech, supporting G. O. P. nominee Willkie.

City And County Ready To Ballot

Expect Over 40,000 To Vote In Local Precincts On Tuesday

SUNDAY MOVIES SPECIAL ISSUE

The chips are down. The speeches are about over. In a few hours the electorate of the United States will go to the polls to settle the question that has been front page news for months, "Who will be elected president of the United States for the next four years?"

Locally the vote will undoubtedly surge far ahead of any vote ever cast in Lawrence county. In 1936 the vote was over 37,000. Tomorrow it is expected to run over 40,000. Not even rainy weather, which is a possibility, is expected to stop the voters from getting out to the polls for this election has had an interest and color that was missing in 1936.

State To Be Close

It is expected that Pennsylvania will be a close race between the Republican and Democratic parties. In New Castle and Lawrence county political observers insist the Republicans will have a comfortable lead.

Campaign Ends With 55,000,000 Ready To Vote

Veteran Political Forecasters Sharply Divided On Outcome Of Election

SOME PREDICTING WILLKIE LANDSLIDE

Others Forecast Roosevelt Victory By Narrow Margin, On Tuesday

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHISON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The 1940 presidential campaign ends today with 55,000,000 American voters ready to stage a political revolution at the polls tomorrow.

The outcome of the balloting, after one of the most dramatic campaigns in U. S. history, will constitute a revolution, whether President Roosevelt is chosen for a third term or Wendell Willkie, the Republican nominee, is elected to a first term.

If Mr. Roosevelt wins, the result amounts to a revolt against the time-honored American tradition of "no third term." If Willkie wins, it is a revolution against the new deal, on which Mr. Roosevelt won reelection four years ago by carrying 46 of the 48 states.

Divided Outcome

Veteran political observers in New York and in Washington are sharply divided in their forecasts of the outcome. Many believe Mr. Roosevelt will win, although conceding a great groundswell of sentiment for Willkie. Others predict a Willkie victory, with many of this group forecasting a political earthquake giving the Republicans a landslide.

Consensus indicates a Roosevelt victory by a small but comfortable margin, or a landslide for Willkie.

Factors Favoring Willkie

There are several factors favoring Willkie. One is the jubilant attitude of his leaders as contrasted to the worried feeling among new deal chiefs. Another is the historic fact that Ohio has voted for the winner in every presidential election since 1868 and this year appears to be entering the Republican column again. A third is that the Republican nominee has won easily in every 20th year since 1880.

On the Democratic side is the president's tremendous popularity, his great army of government workers and the Democratic machines in large eastern and midwestern cities. Some astute politicians cannot see how Willkie can overcome this combination of strength.

Mystery In Independents

The reason there is any mystery about the outcome is the fact that there are no conclusive signs as to how the great bloc of independent voters are going to vote. This bloc, composed of millions of voters who are not bound by party lines, favored Roosevelt four years ago. If they swing to Willkie this year, the GOP nominee can and will win. Both new dealers and Republicans claim the bloc but one side must be mistaken.

Berlin Claims British Ships Sunk

Two Auxiliary Cruisers Sunk By U-Boat Is Berlin Report

ARMED MERCHANT SHIP DAMAGED

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Nov. 4.—German submarines and bombers sank two large British auxiliary cruisers and an armed merchantman and damaged one destroyer, two merchant vessels, and a naval patrol boat. The Nazi high command announced today.

The two auxiliary cruisers, sunk by a U-boat, were identified as the 18,724-ton Laurentic and the 11,314-ton Patrol, and the name of the armed merchantman, also a U-boat victim, was given as the 5,376-ton Casnar.

Seriously Damaged
The 19,141-ton Windsor Castle was reported to have been seriously damaged when attacked by a long-range German bomber several hundred miles west of Ireland. A communiqué reported that when the Nazi plane wheeled away the steamer was drifting helplessly.

The other vessels reportedly were damaged off the east coast of Scotland. A squadron of bombers scored a direct hit on a British steamer of "approximately 10,000 tons" an official announcement said. Big smoke clouds belched out of the holds of the ship following the attack.

An escorting destroyer, the high command reported, was struck directly amidships with a heavy calibre bomb, and an escorting patrol boat sustained a direct hit by a medium calibre bomb.

north after a battle in which 1,200 Italians were captured and 30 Italian tanks were destroyed.

On the Epirus front, they added, the Greeks threw back an Italian drive against Janina, capturing some 1,000 Italian and Albanian troops as well as a large number of tanks.

Fascist Garrison Trapped
The Greek warriors were reported bearing down quickly on Koriza, thus reversing the Italian campaign against Albania, which was aimed at the great Aegean port of Salonika as its major objective.

It appeared the trapped Fascist garrison at Koriza might prove inadequate to hold out against the advancing Greeks. Italy was believed to be rushing reinforcements to Koriza but some reports said they might not arrive in time to prevent fall of the city to the Greeks.

Yesterday's battle around Koriza was described as of exceptional violence. Italian Alpine troops opened counter-attacks in an effort to oust the Greeks from Albanian positions the latter had captured on Friday.

But the Greeks, charging with bayonets and hand grenades, breaking the Italian lines and sending the Fascist forces into a swift retreat, reports to the border stated.

ers anticipated that at least 4,000,000 electors would visit polling places in the 67 counties.

Republicans found comfort in registration returns which indicated they held a 600,000 majority over their opponents. Although complete figures were lacking, elections bureau officials said Republican enrollment was approximately 2,785,000 to 2,165,000 for the Democrats.

Claim Willkie Will Win

The Republican high command clung to its prediction that Wendell Willkie and the state ticket would triumph by 500,000 votes but the Democrats felt that President Roosevelt may duplicate his 1936 victory. Four years ago the president carried Pennsylvania by more than 680,000 votes.

In addition to voting for president and vice president, electors will vote for a United States senator, auditor general and state treasurer. Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh, the incumbent, was pinning his hopes for victory on the re-election of President Roosevelt. He is opposed by Jay Cooke, Philadelphia Republican, who counted on a big Philadelphia vote to carry him through.

The contest for auditor general is between State Treasurer F. Clair Ross, for the Democrats, and State Sen. Fred T. Gelder, Susquehanna, for the Republicans. In the race for state treasurer are G. Harold Wagner, Wilkes-Barre, Democrat, and James F. Malone, Jr., Pittsburgh, Republican.

An important phase of tomorrow's election will be the contests for 34 seats in congress whose outcome may count heavily in the fight for control at the next session. Thirty-one of the state's 44 congressmen are seeking reelection, including 18 Republicans and 13 Democrats. Twenty-five state senators and 208 state representatives also will be elected. Victory or defeat in the congressional and legislative fights largely will hinge on the voting in the presidential contest.

only German aerial activity over the British Isles during the night according to the air ministry.

No Night Raids
For the first time in 57 nights Nazi air raid failed to appear over the British capital. Bad flying weather was believed responsible.

The sole topic of conversation of Londoners today dealt with the absence of the night blitz. Referring to the bombless night, one bystander keyed the general theme of conversations with the assertion: "It seemed unreal . . . no guns bursting . . . no bombs exploding . . . no roaring planes . . . I kept wondering what was wrong."

The quiet night followed a peaceful Sunday in which only two brief air raid warnings sounded in the capital. Daylight activity throughout the British Isles was light and only two German bombers were reported to have been brought down.

Damage in London yesterday was only slight, the most being caused when a high flying raider unloaded a stick of bombs which shattered several buildings. Some pedestrians were buried in the debris when the wrecked structures cascaded into the street.

"In East Africa, enemy attacks on our forces who are holding Sciuscib Mountain at Kassala were repulsed with minor losses on our side," a communiqué said. "Some prisoners remained in our hands."

An earlier official announcement of operations in Greece said that Fascist warplanes had cut Greece's main railroad, the Athens-Salonika line, resulting in the serious disruption of mobilization and movements of the Greek army.

national News Service indicates a group of eastern states can decide the election.

The survey shows Mr. Roosevelt has 113 electoral votes in the solid south. On top of this, it is indicated, he will carry Montana (4), Nevada (3), Utah (4) and Arizona (3), and is the favorite in Kentucky (11), Tennessee (11), Maryland (8), Delaware (3), Oklahoma (11) and Washington (8). This would give him a total of 179 electoral votes, 87 short of victory.

In most of these states, the new deal disputes Republican claims. Similarly, the GOP says that they have a chance to carry Florida and Louisiana in the solid south; Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma among the border states.

Willkie Appears Favorite

The survey indicates Willkie is a favorite in Maine (5), Vermont (3), New Hampshire (4), Pennsylvania (36), Ohio (26), Indiana (14), Michigan (19), Iowa (11), Nebraska (7), Kansas (9), North Dakota (4), South Dakota (4), and Colorado (6), and is also likely to carry Minnesota (11), Wisconsin (12), and Wyoming (3). This would give him a total of 174 electoral votes or 92 short of victory.

In the remaining states, both new dealers and Republicans claim victory and there are signs to back up each side. The survey therefore indicates the battleground to be:

Battleground Indicated

Massachusetts (17), Connecticut (6), Rhode Island (4), New York (47), New Jersey (16), West Virginia (4), Illinois (29), Missouri (15), Idaho (4), New Mexico (3), Oregon (5), and California (22)—a total of 12 states with 178 electoral votes. If Willkie carries all the states in which the INS survey shows he is now a favorite, he can win the election by sweeping Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, and Oregon. He can lose New York from this group and then win by carrying Illinois, Missouri and Idaho, or Illinois and California.

Ohio Weatherhane

On the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt can win, if he holds the states in which the survey shows he is a favorite, and then carries Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. As in Willkie's case, the president can lose New York out of this group and still win by carrying the same alternative states that Willkie must win if he drops New York.

Oldtimers say Ohio will be the weatherhane this year but there are some competent forecasters who believe Massachusetts will tell the story. This latter group say that if Willkie carries Massachusetts, he is likely to sweep all the other states and win a landslide election. This group adds, too, that Willkie can lose Massachusetts and still win, but that a GOP victory in the old Bay state will indicate a national trend.

WILLKIE MAKES FINAL TALKS TO PEOPLE OF NATION

done all that could be done to sell himself and his principles to the electors. All he asked now was that the vote come out full strength.

"Tomorrow is the day on which all Americans of voting age have their chance to show the world the force and power of the free ballot in a democracy dedicated to peace and progress," Willkie said today.

Urges All To Vote

"Voting is the only way our citizens have to control their government. Failure to vote is not only an abdication of the high privilege of American citizenship but is an acquiescence in whatever loss of liberty may come if the power of the bosses be not out-voted."

"No conditions should prevent the exercise of that right and the discharge of that duty. That high privilege should be exercised and that solemn duty discharged in every city, town and village, regardless of weather, distance or difficulty."

Willkie also had this to say: "Despite last minute rumors which counsels of desperation spread about me to mislead voters, I repeat now what I said to the convention at Philadelphia immediately following my nomination:

No Pledges Made

"I stand before you without a single pledge, promise or understanding of any kind except for the advancement of your cause and the preservation of American democracy."

"Since that time, the only pledges or promises of any sort that I have made to anybody have been those which I have made to the American people in my public addresses. I have neither offered to nor discussed with any person, any appointment to any cabinet position or any other position and I have never authorized anyone else to do so."

The last paragraph apparently was an answer to Thomas who reported that he had been offered the post of secretary of labor if he would aid the Willkie campaign. Thomas identified Harold G. Talbot, a Willkie adviser, as the man who made the offer.

Pledges At Third Term Issue

Still pounding away at the third term issue, Willkie said earlier of the president's promise not to run for a fourth term if re-elected tomorrow: "People with short memories recall that the terms of his prior re-elections were made under more definite than his recent obscure promise that he would not seek a fourth term. All of us recall that nearly four years ago, on February 28, 1937, he talked of the time he would leave the White House—in January, 1941."

"But now he talks of leaving the White House at some subsequent date, and more remote date, and of the condition in which he hopes to leave the country then."

Broke Pledges

"In view of the fact that within three months of his first assumption of power he broke the pledges which he called 'solemn covenants with the people,' the fate of a renunciation of a fourth term, based only on implication and indirection, is certain."

For himself, Willkie said that if elected: "In my first message to congress, I shall recommend they submit a constitutional amendment limiting the term of any one president may serve to eight years or less."

Willkie ends his campaign, firm and apparently not half so weary of the seven-week train trip which marked the most rigorous part of his campaign as most of his party.

CITY AND COUNTY READY TO BALLOT

Leaders of both parties were busy over the week end tying in loose ends and making certain that the machinery for the election on Tuesday was in working order.

Some added interest in the election is seen in New Castle and Erie wood City because of the vote on Sunday motion pictures. These are the only two special ballots to be presented to voters. The regular election ballot itself is small and should be counted in fairly good time.

The polls open at seven o'clock Tuesday morning and will be open continually until eight o'clock at night. Watchers for both parties will be at the polls but in addition to the official watchers there will be a host of volunteer workers.

So far as the result is concerned that is probably sealed now. It only remains for the voters to go to the polls tomorrow and express their choice for the presidency and the other offices to be filled.

Funeral Director

Forty-two years ago November 1, we started in business in Lawrence County. Twenty years ago today, we moved to New Castle. Many changes have taken place in forty-two years, but by giving good service and improving same from year to year, we have grown to the point in our profession so that anyone needing the services of a Funeral Director in their home, and want good, sound and reliable service, they think of "Campbell's".

Tomorrow we vote. We have heard a lot of fine speeches. Can either Party fulfill their promises, and how much does either of the two great Parties care for the common people, just so their political machine wins out.

Everyone should vote or be fined, and should do so in a solemn, conscientious manner, feeling that a great responsibility rests upon their shoulders. The public must take more interest in Election, and should control the Government, in place of the Political Parties.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Meyers, Ph. D.

ENCOURAGE SLOW CHILD

It is discouraging to the parents when their child lags or falls at school. More discouraging, however, to the child. This second fact parents are prone to overlook. Therefore, they tend to overdo the lagging child and change him with laziness. If only they could, even for a few minutes, be in the child's place, just to get his feelings, they would do very differently.

Of course, if the child runs about at night when he has home assignments from school, he just won't have time to get these lessons. The problem then for the parent is not to hound the child about the lessons but to cultivate in him the habit of being home on nights before school and going at his home work at a regular time and place. With some children in school it may be too late to re-establish these good habits. If their parents can do nothing about these habits how much less can they do about the lessons? The obvious warning is to parents of younger children to make sure adequate controls will have been established early.

Don't Nag

Under no conditions can the parent hope to help the child improve in his work at school by scolding and nagging at him about it.

If you really want to help this child, learn from his teachers, or from an expert, just what can be done at home to contribute to his success at school. Say the child is in the fourth or fifth grade. Is his trouble in reading, spelling, arithmetic?

If in arithmetic, about the first thing to ascertain is whether he has learned by heart the simple 100 basic addition facts and the 100 basic subtraction facts, as 7 and 9 are 16, 8 from 13 leaves 5. So long as he counts or guesses in relation to the facts his troubles will continue. In order to help him, you will induce him to memorize these facts, just as he memorizes the multiplication facts, a few an evening.

Maybe he has not yet caught on to the process of hard subtraction, hard addition, or long division. If you might, if you are poised and serene, show him in an evening or two, by working calmly and patiently a few samples with him. Likewise you might help him with specific troubles in fractions, denominate numbers, percentage.

Or, his arithmetic might be with verbal (reading) problems. If so, the chances are he is a poor reader or so much in haste that he doesn't take time enough to read the problem carefully, but hurriedly looks from one number to another among the words and guesses it is add, subtract, multiply or "guinsto".

Parent Control

Anyway, the average parent who is self-controlled, poised and patient who never lets the voice rise, nor even feels angry at the child with trouble in arithmetic, might easily be able to locate this child's difficulty and help him overcome it.

Of course, any parent who can read fairly well can easily find out if the child has trouble in reading. No standard test will be needed. If this child must pause, sutter and stumble over every few words, it is clear that what he is trying to read is too hard for him. But this may be the book or assignment for this child's grade. No matter. He will not improve much in reading through the torture of trying to read such. Find materials that are easy enough for him to read, that also will be interesting to him. Better still, if you can induce him to read aloud to a child under six to entertain that child.

You may have any one of the following by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

1. The 100 addition and 100 subtraction facts.
2. Home Helps for the poor reader.
3. Home Helps for the poor speller.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. What may happen if a tot is nearly always dressed better than his playmates?

A. He may lose their friendship and become a lonely, suffering soul.

Q. Should we teach a boy never to hit a girl, even when assailed by her?

A. No; in a child under nine or ten the rules of self-defense have no regard for sex, as a rule. And it is not good for any girl to impose on other children.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:54. Sun rises tomorrow 6:34.

Tomorrow is the day we give our country away or keep it safe. One mark on the right place on the ballot will save us.

Young couples may decide not to have children when they marry, but the divorce records show no way has been found to prevent scraps and trouble coming.

A lot can be done at this time of the year to make it possible to have a nice garden in the early spring. Some things can only be planted in the fall.

The war has not yet put an end to the delicious fancy foods so long identified with English kitchens. Word comes that $10,000 worth of English plum puddings are on their way to this country for Thanksgiving trade and that additional shipments are expected to follow.

DO YOU BELIEVE IT?
A cop is said to have stopped a woman driver, and the following conversation took place:
"Didn't you see me hold up my hand?"
"I did not."
"Didn't you hear me blow my whistle?"
"I didn't."
"Well, I guess I might as well go home. I don't seem to be doing much good here."

We had the pleasure of going over the new dream highway. It is sure is a fine piece of work. It was built for safety and it is just that. No business houses are on it and no advertising billboards either. Eating places and gas stations are handy when needed. It is worth going over both ways and the trip should be made on other days than Saturday and Sundays. Holidays should also be left out. It is the finest road in the world.

Every man and woman who left a foreign country to come to America had a good reason for so doing. And very few ever go back. They have found a great country and want to help keep it just that.

We saw no hitchhikers on the new dream highway. We also saw only one motorcycle. There are not so many trucks either.

REAL PROGRESS
The rural electrification program got a boost in a certain mountain home, we hear. It seems that an agent went around signing up customers for the line which was to be built. In one remote home he was having trouble getting the man of the place to sign up until the housewife put in her word.

"Sign up by all means, John," she said. "Just think how convenient it will be to have an electric oven so we can heat bricks to warm our beds these cold nights."

A philosopher says that the way for a woman to find out the truth about a man is to marry him. Miss Flossie Fernhill has another plan—consult the neighbors.

Armistice Day ought to mean a lot to the people of the United States. It does to those who were glad on the day the armistice was signed.

Albania May Slow Up Italian Advance
Greeks Praised As Formidable Fighters
Italians Have Advantage In Man Power

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — The Greek legation in Washington is considerably depressed by Italy's war move against its small home kingdom.

As a Hellenic diplomatic attache put it to me, "One Greek soldier is a match for three or four Italians, but if they pile in five or six to one against us, they may make us a deal of trouble."

Our own American military men take it for granted that the Axis will make short work of the little country, possibly with the exception of its coastal fringe, along which they think that Britain's eastern Mediterranean fleet may help it formidably.

To be sure, the Greeks are rated as first rate fighters and the Italians as pretty weak-kneed warriors. However, the Greeks are away out-classed in numbers, and those they have lack much equipment, whereas the Italians are quite well supplied in the latter respect. Furthermore, it's assumed that, even if Dictator Mussolini does need any assistance, Dictator Hitler will provide him with it—and nobody questions the Germans' prowess on the battlefield.

Albania A Factor

Albania may prove to be an anti-Axis factor in the equation.

It seems funny that that wee little country should signify in the situation. Yet it's across Albania that the Axis forces have been striving to get into Greece overland, dodging the British fleet's superiority on the water.

Now Italy recently grabbed the Albanian realm, kicking King Zog out into exile. According to Italian accounts the Albanians were glad of it, but other stories are to the effect that they were as mad as hornets, and that, today, they're in a state of anti-Italian insurrection—determined to resist the passage of Axis troops across their territory into Greece.

The Italian version is that the Greeks and Albanians hate one another.

They relate that, not long ago, the Greeks caught an "Albanian patriot" (a pro-Italian) and chopped his head off. It really happened, probably. But the Greeks' yarn is that the chap wasn't a patriot. They say he was a bandit, and that the Albanians were delighted to have his head amputated.

Anyway, there are reports that Albania's in anti-Italian revolt. Rome denies it, and there's no knowing, due to the censorship.

The rumors sound probable, though. The Albanians are a super liberty-loving people. Their methods of fighting also are decidedly primitive.

In the days before the last World war I was in Turkey, which then was fighting Albania.

The Turks, none too civilized themselves, complained that the Taught to the tune of a hickory stick."

That was the education in our public schools back in the horse-and-buggy days. It was a very good education: it was an education of essentials, and did not include a course in communism, socialistic political economy.

In the horse-and-buggy days the children walked to school. They got their exercise mostly in that manner. They played the old-fashioned games of town-ball and perhaps kicked a round football about the school grounds, but they studied or else the hickory stick. Should a schoolmaster or a school-maam to-day use a hickory stick, he or she would probably be arrested for assault by an irate parent and the same irate parent, should he take the boy back of the woodshed, would probably be interviewed by the police and charged with assault.

I believe that the old-fashioned way was the best. I do not cotton much to these days of carrying the children to school in automobile buses or, as in cities, handing the boy or girl an automobile of his own to drive to school.

Natural Preparedness is calling for universal military training of young men from eighteen to thirty-five. I believe it would have been better, from eighteen to twenty-five, but that is neither here nor there. These young men are going to have a taste of the "hickory stick." The drilling sergeant is not going to take any, yes or no for an answer. Orders will be orders and they will be obeyed. The "hickory stick" may be the "hickory stick," it may be bread and water, but it will be the "hickory stick" just the same, and the young men will learn something that has not been taught in this generation—obedience.

Incidentally, the young men may learn something about work and it won't be an eight-hour day either, or a five-day week, not as long as Army marines are left free to drill a soldier as a soldier ought to be drilled. Those who enter the Navy will learn a trade, which is not being done much in civil life just now, unfortunately.

I believe that if Mr. Willkie is elected President of these United States, there will be a better feeling among workmen. I believe there will be more apprentices at work. It may be possible, and it should be possible, to teach army recruits a trade.

There is not anything that will help the people of these United States to get back to first principles than the teaching of honorable trades, together with "Reading Writing and Rhythmic."

The Great Game Of Politics

The Thought Of Defeat

NO one believed two months ago that this presidential campaign would sink to the low political level it has reached in its final week. The explanation, of course, is that instead of being the runaway race which the third-termers had expected, and to which Mr. Roosevelt had become accustomed, it apparently is so close that the most experienced men of politics are uncertain about the outcome.

AND the responsibility for the character of the campaign is as clear as the explanation. It rests squarely upon those who are directing the third-term candidacy. From that side have come the eggs, vegetables and other missiles thrown at Mr. Willkie and his wife. It was Mr. LaGuardia, spokesman for Mr. Roosevelt, who assaulted a man in Detroit for asking a question, and it was Mr. Early, the Roosevelt secretary, who "kneed" the negro policeman in New York. It was Mr. Wallace, the Roosevelt running mate, who first attempted to smear Mr. Willkie as an oppressor, and it is the Democratic committee which has sponsored the degraded literary efforts to stir racial prejudice and capitalize class hatred. And, finally, it is Mr. Roosevelt himself, who, at last throwing aside all pretense of a "draft," is angrily meeting the indictment of the opposition by shouting "deliberate falsification," thus encouraging his aides, such as Mr. Harold Ickes and Mr. Robert Jackson, who need little enough encouragement, to new and more violent outbursts of vituperation.

THE effect upon the lesser lights of the third-term campaign of Mr. Roosevelt's attempt to brand his opponent as a liar has been equally unpleasant. Here, at the close, there is a meanness and bitterness about the fight which makes it different from any that has occurred in a very long time. Nor is it hard to see the reason. Aside from the fact that instead of the setup against whom Mr. Roosevelt had previously run, and another which he expected to oppress him this time, his opponent turned out to be a formidable man who somehow has gotten his case across to the people—aside from that, there is the fact that the circumstances of this third-term attempt would make the defeat of the third-term candidate no ordinary defeat. Quite clearly, it would be far more devastating and humiliating than any Little girl at our house now!

Little girl with raven tresses.
Who'll be wanting things—and how!
Ribbons, bonnets, slippers, dresses.
Are those grandmas both delighted?
Have they fevers there's no cooling—
Are they crazily excited?
Yes they are, and I'm not fooling!

Little girl arrived last week.
Come to join her little brother!
With a dimple in her cheek
Near the elbow joint another.
Are those grandmas wild with joy,
Buying trinkets good and plenty?
Yes they are! You said it boy!
That's the truth and no baloney!

Little girl! Eight pounds of bliss.
Rapture, ecstasy and beauty!
Little girl to hug and kiss
Giving grandma double-duty.
But those grandmas! Did they buy
Doll and cab and giant panda?
Did they make the money fly?
Yes, and that's not propaganda!

normal defeat for any normal candidacy.

IT is easy to understand that so such a man as Mr. Roosevelt the thought of such a defeat must be nearly unbearable. It must be particularly unbearable when the thought is forced on him after weeks of a confidence so supreme that he deemed it unnecessary to solicit the voices of the people or recognize that anyone was running against him. Until a short time ago that was the feeling of the president and of his journalistic and political aides and spokesmen. Some of them actually were suggesting that Mr. Willkie save his strength and withdraw from what they characterized as a "hopeless fight." Apparently the idea that he could be defeated did not enter Mr. Roosevelt's mind until about the middle of October.

BUT it has been there since then, and it certainly is there now. It has forced him into a frantic last-minute campaign and it has stimulated his managers to what seem the excesses of scared and desperate men. Even if Mr. Roosevelt wins, it will be at the cost of dignity and pride. If, now, he should be elected, it will not be as a "drafted" candidate, yielding to the "irresistible demand of the people," but as a president who used the full weight of a gigantic Federal machine and descended to the lower depths of demagoguery to hold on to his job against the will of the majority of unsubsidized, non-jobholding voters. It is a prospect no thoughtful man could contemplate with equanimity.

Greek Guerillas Harass Italians

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 4.—Thirty thousand Italian troops threatening the Greek industrial city of Janina have been cut off by a Greek guerrilla band headed by a famous mountain leader named Varda. Reuter reported from Belgrade today.

Belgrade reports from the frontier said that the Greeks had captured Elgishite and bombed Koritza, Italian stronghold in Albania.

Varda was said to have severed all communications between the Italians near Janina and the main forces across the frontier.

RED CROSS CLASS
Members of the First Aid Red Cross class for adults will meet in the Y. W. C. A., this evening from 8 to 10 o'clock.

THERE are men who would not want to be elected that way. Yet Mr. Roosevelt, by "drafting" himself for a third nomination, has gotten into a position where defeat would be so personally humiliating that there seems little he would not do to avert it. Once having made the third-term gamble, against which he was solemnly warned by some of his closest friends, once having defied the oldest of American political traditions and rejected as disloyal those who cautioned him that public feeling on the subject was deep and strong—once having done those things, it was inevitable that, if defeat threatened he would be compelled to go the limit to win. And that is what he has done.

BECAUSE defeat in this fight would mean that instead of going out of office popular, acclaimed, with prestige high and record approved, he would go out discredited and repudiated, rebuked by the people for his presumption. It would mean that he had as grossly underestimated the people. It would mean that just as he had guessed wrong about the way they felt concerning the Supreme Court, he had guessed just as wrong concerning the way they feel on third terms. It would mean that the people had seen through the whole false pretense of the sort of rebuke to embitter the rest of his days, and the sting would be with him to the end. Considering these things, it is not surprising that the fear of defeat makes him desperate—and that his managers verge on panic.

Albanians were outright savages. They charged that the Albanian custom, when a Turkish prisoner was captured, was to cut his hands off.

Just Making Sure
The Albanian high command didn't deny the accusation, but it deeply resented its implications. From Antivari (then their capital) they broadcast their explanation.

"When we take a war prisoner," they pointed out, "we haven't the facilities to turn him loose to go on fighting us. Neither do we want to kill him. That would be barbarous. So we put him on his honor to remain a non-belligerent if we release him. And, to make sure that he keeps his pledge, we cut his hands off."

It's imaginable that Albania may have considered the Greek chopping off one of its patriot's head a trifle too drastic.

All the same, that's the sort of bunch the Axis will have to deal with if its tries to fight its way overland into Greece.

Whether or not Italy has Albania completely licked and pacified and satisfied, I don't know, because of the censorship. But if it hasn't, it has a mean little stretch of country to fight its way through to put Greece on the spot.

True, I expect the Axis will do it. It's no picnic, however.

THE QUESTION OF SUNDAY MOVIES IS A MORAL QUESTION

"Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates."

Exodus 20: 8-10

The Presbyterian men of the McKinney Bible Class are proud to be standing, shoulder to shoulder, with their Catholic Brethren on this Moral Issue.

Westbrook Pegler, who certainly is not a puritan moralizer, recently published, in the Scripps-Howard papers, an article about the Fall of France, in which he asserted that the French people had not only ceased to value morality, but that they had catered to the depraved tastes of all the people of the earth, who were seeking to practice immorality, and had consciously and deliberately invited the immorality of the whole world to come there for that purpose.

Youngstown is a wide-open city. Do you want New Castle to be like Youngstown? The way to start is to vote for an open Sunday.

Because some of your "grown children" go out of town on Sunday to see a movie, do you want to bring the movies to New Castle every Sunday, to teach all your children that you don't think Sunday is different from any other day?

The members of the McKinney Bible Class have many friends in the movie business in New Castle. We are reliably informed that many of these, our friends, do not want to work on Sunday. But the Movie Syndicates are pagan, powerful and pusillanimous. Who is paying the cost of this campaign to give New Castle a Continental Sunday? The Powers that are paying are the powers that want it, and they can break any local movie man in one week if he resists their nefarious purpose.

All the Christian and Jewish people in New Castle want religious tolerance. There can be no tolerance where there is no respect. Your vote for Sunday Movies is a vote to break down the respect which people have for the religious practices of this community for more than a century. Intolerance of the religious beliefs which prompt these practices will surely follow. If every Christian and every Jew in New Castle who tolerates and respects the religion of his neighbors, would vote against Sunday movies, there would be none such in New Castle.

Is it morally wrong for you to see a movie on Sunday? Perhaps, No. Is it morally wrong for you to require others, for the sake of their livelihood, to work on Sunday, even though it offends their conscience; or is it morally wrong to teach your children or those in the community, who are weak in conscience, that Sunday observance is of no consequence? You answer.

"Well then, my brothers, we owe a duty—but it is not to the flesh."—Romans 8:12.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time. Once you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 24% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. pay sooner to reduce the charges. Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.75 each will repay a $100 loan in full in 12 months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month for 18 months will also repay a $100 loan.

Same rate to everyone
Installments in the table cover everything. They include charges at Household's rate of 24% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Household has only this one rate—the same for everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

No one else need know
When you borrow at Household, there is no need to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) So that your loan may remain your private affair, we do not ask friends or relatives about your credit. If you should be faced with sickness or unemployment while paying on a loan, Household will show you every consideration. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

If a loan will help you, you are urged to look at the table again. Then phone or visit us for further information. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

NEW CASTLE BUSINESS MEN AND LABOR ENDORSE SUNDAY MOVIES

New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly

302½ East Washington Street
New Castle, Pennsylvania

Organized November 18, 1893

Affiliated with Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and The American Federation of Labor

Oct. 30, 1940.

New Castle Motion Picture Exhibitors
New Castle, Penna.

Gentlemen:

In considering the question of the vote on Sunday Movies at the election Nov. 5, The Trades and Labor Assembly, after due deliberation, has decided to endorse the movement in this city.

We believe that the city will be benefitted by the increased employment and payrolls, not only in the theaters, but in other lines as well, such as restaurants, drug stores, soda fountains, gasoline stations, etc.

We believe that a great deal of money being spent now in other localities where Sunday shows are prevalent will be left here for the benefit of our own merchants, and consequently will increase employment in that field.

We also believe that the working man should have the right and privilege to choose his own relaxation on Sunday in his own community, and as Sunday baseball, fishing and golf are now legal, why not Sunday Movies?

The Trades and Labor Assembly is therefore glad to add their endorsement of Sunday Movies to that of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, which was given some time ago. You may use this letter in any way that seems necessary for the advancement of the campaign for Sunday Movies.

Very truly yours,

RALPH AUDINO, President.

NORMAN D. FREEBORNE, Secretary.

October 23, 1940.

New Castle Theater Owners,
New Castle, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sirs:

The effort which is being made to enlist favorable support in the balloting on the matter of Sunday motion pictures in New Castle has come to the attention of the Board of Directors of the Retail Merchants Association.

The Directors of the Retail Merchants Association believe the operation of theaters in New Castle on Sunday would be a distinct contribution to the well-being of the community for the following reasons:

1. Thousands of dollars would be spent in New Castle for admissions, dinners, lunches and gasoline which is now being diverted to other communities such as Youngstown, Sharon and Ellwood City. This would increase employment.

2. Residents of New Castle would not be forced out of the community in seeking entertainment, nor would they, by the same token, be subject to the hazards of cross-country trips on foggy, wintry nights.

3. Residents of our trading area would have one more reason for making New Castle the center of their activities, and at the same time would have one additional opportunity for examining the window displays of local merchants with a view to shopping trips later in the week.

We are glad to add our endorsement to the proposed re-opening of New Castle Theaters. You have our permission to use this letter in any way you see fit.

Yours very truly,

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Revives While On Mortuary Slab After Accident

(International News Service)
DERBY, Conn., Nov. 4.—Despite the verdict of two physicians who pronounced Hughes dead, noticed the breathing of Huggins and rushed him to the hospital.
Huggins, who was injured in an automobile accident, awakened on a mortuary slab in the funeral home of James Shay, undertaker.
Dr. E. R. Harvey, medical examiner, who was one of two physicians who pronounced Hughes dead, noticed the breathing of Huggins and rushed him to the hospital.
Huggins was thrown 30 feet from his car, which turned over three times and burst into flames after going out of control and striking a bank.
Dr. Harvey said there was no evidence of a spark of life for more than an hour after he and Dr. Joseph Chobian examined Huggins.

CONFESSES HE KILLED BRIDE

(International News Service)

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 4.—Dale Darrow, 23-year-old machinist, confessed today that he beat and choked to death his 17-year-old bride of three months, an expectant mother, and buried the body in a shallow grave in Allegan county, Oakland County Prosecutor Charles L. Wilson said today.
The body was recovered today. The coat, hat, shoes and purse were missing.
Wilson quoted Darrow as saying he committed the crime because of mounting debts and after many bitter quarrels with his young wife.
Darrow, Wilson said, finally confessed after 12 hours of intensive grilling. Wilson said Darrow originally insisted that while riding with his wife, Eileen, three men held them up, beat him into insensibility and then abducted his wife.

PRESIDENT WILL END CAMPAIGN IN HOME DISTRICT

G. O. P. member of the House Foreign affairs committee, and third member of the firm of "Martin, Barton and Fish" upon whom he had been drumming in the past week.
Mr. Roosevelt scheduled five "three minute" speeches in Dutchess, Orange, Putnam and Ulster counties of his vitally contested home state, all leading up to the final radio message he will deliver to the electorate tonight at 11:10 p. m. E. S. T.
In the presidential auto will be riding Hardy Steeholm, Democratic candidate for congress against Fish. Mr. Roosevelt planned not only a series of plugs for his own re-election, but also for the defeat of Fish, a consistent opponent of his foreign policies.

Left Washington Last Night
The chief executive left Washington last night following a full Sunday afternoon of conferences with Secretary of State Hull and Undersecretary Welles. Movement of American destroyers to the vicinity of Martinique, West Indies Island possession of the defeated Vichy government of France probably was under discussion, but no statement was forthcoming from any of the three.
Martinique falls in the scope of the Havana conference and Monroe doctrine declarations that sovereignty of the western hemisphere must remain intact, regardless of the European war. The president called Hull early this morning. Still militantly pushing his bid for a third term, the president's own election activity left him little respite. Disembarking this morning the special train that in a week's time has carried him through the vital states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Connecticut, he announced the following a schedule of three-minute speeches:

Speeches Today
Beacon, Putnam county seat, 2:25 p. m.
Newburgh, Orange county seat, 2:50 p. m.
Rhinebeck, Dutchess county seat, 6:00 p. m.
The Poughkeepsie speech will be the president's last public appearance, and will be delivered from the marquee of the Nelson House, same spot which in 1936 he wound up his campaign.

Official members of the presidential party were confident that Mr. Roosevelt's appeal for a "vote of confidence" would be rewarded at the polls tomorrow to the point of making last minute wagers.
The man who seeks an unprecedented third term will vote tomorrow around noon time at Hyde Park town hall and then return to his family home to await the results. As usual, the president will set himself up an office in the family dining room, just off of which will be ticking in the returns on three press association wires.
Just before he left Washington last night, the president issued a statement urging all qualified voters to go to the polls. He announced that, federal employees would be given time off to exercise their franchise and urged that state and local governments do likewise.

Dr. J. R. Cooper Receives Honors

Dr. J. R. Cooper of East North street was accorded high honors for work in radiology, when he attended the meeting of the Roentgen Ray society in Boston, Mass., late last month.
Dr. Cooper was awarded a membership in the American College of Radiology and was also awarded a certificate of approved radiologist for extensive work in the X-ray field.
In addition to the above honors, he also won the golf tournament of those doctors in attendance held in connection with the meeting of the American Roentgen Ray society.

GREEK REPORT ASSERTS ITALIANS ARE DRIVEN BACK

bombed Salonika, causing a number of casualties, several of which were fatal, among civilians.
"Three Italian planes were shot down by anti-aircraft fire and a fourth was believed to have been badly damaged and to have crashed."
Latest reports said Italian troops were in "disorderly retreat" in the Koritza region of Albania as the Greeks struck deeper from Florina into Italian-held territory.

Italians Driven Back
Here, in the Epirus region, it was claimed, a heavy Italian thrust was shattered in violent fighting yesterday.

Supported by Greek planes, tanks and armored car units, Ezyones mountain warriors were said to be encircling Koritza in Albania and threatened to trap an entire division of 15,000 Italians.
[Dispatches from the Yugoslav-Greek frontier said 1,200 Italians were captured by the Greeks driving against Koritza and that another 1,000 were taken prisoners west of Janina.]

It was reported that some British aircraft were cooperating with the Greeks in the assault on Koritza.

British Troops To Aid

Greek quarters likewise expected that British ground troops would soon rush north to aid in the campaign against Koritza until a numerical parity with the Italians can be attained, after which a joint Anglo-Greek push through Albania may be attempted.

Premier Gen. John Metaxas was understood to have ordered his forces in Western Macedonia to push into Albania, where the village of Viglitza already was reported captured.

Yesterday's surprise Greek counter thrusts were said to have placed Yoritza within reach of the advancing Greeks and to have ended for the present the threat of Italian capture of Salonika by way of Florina.

Appearance of Greek mechanized units was said to have stunned the Italians after a Greek force raided Albanian territory opposite Florina and set fire to a huge Italian gasoline dump behind the lines before withdrawing.
Extremely heavy artillery fire greeted the Greeks who stormed the hills dominating Koritza, but they held their positions until reinforcements arrived and then began an encircling maneuver around the Albanian stronghold.

Meanwhile the Greek public was jubilant over reports that British troops, naval and air units had established themselves on the Greek Island of Crete.

RANCHER FOOLS HUNTERS WITH STUFFED DEER

(International News Service)

FORT ROSS, Cal., Nov. 4.—There's one Fort Ross rancher who has a lot of fun during deer hunting seasons.
The farmer's ranch adjoins a highway and he owns a stuffed deer. So, during hunting time, he places the stuffed deer on a table some 400 yards from the highway.
Come morning hunters who according to the farmer, stop by the hundreds annually to pepper away at the deer until the joke dawns on them.

Last season one usually active hunter got out of his car and stalked the deer for an hour before he found out what was what.
"Of course, some of the hunters squawk, but they aren't supposed to shoot from the highway anyway," drawled the rancher. "Besides it draws their fire away from my cows and horses."

News stories tell us the Germans are enraged by British attacks. After a long pleasant period of dishing it out, it must be annoying to be forced to take it.

Cleveland Officers Make Investigation

Two Come Here This Afternoon In Connection With West Pittsburgh Case

Sergeant James Hogan and Detective Emil Musil of the Cleveland police department arrived here today to conduct an investigation of the skeleton found by Mike Seman in the swamp near West Pittsburgh Saturday.

For several years Cleveland authorities have been trying to solve the headless murders of Kingsbury Run, in that city. Only one person, a woman, was identified. Some persons believe there is a connection between Cleveland and West Pittsburgh murders.

The Cleveland authorities visited the city police then were taken to the state motor police barracks. Later they examined bones of the skeleton at a local morgue.

The skull this morning was taken by State Motor Policemen McCullough and Klare to Butler barracks where it was to be photographed and further examined.

According to reports, several of the teeth contained fillings and through these there is a slim hope of some dentist identifying his work because dentists keep a chart of dental work.

One chief point authorities want to establish is the manner of decapitation whether a saw or knife was used. Coroner Nugent believes a knife expertly wielded was the weapon used in the latest murder.
The ladybird is not a bird, as some people suppose, but is a beetle.
The only jockey known to have lost his life in a horse race was killed in the Grand National Steeplechase, the most dangerous race in the world, which has been run at Liverpool, England, for over 100 years.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Hundred, perhaps thousands, of Pennsylvanians were disfranchised this year because the state does not provide for absentee balloting. . . . The Pennsylvania, otherwise qualified to vote but absent from their homes on election day because of unavoidable business or for some other cause, were unable to cast their ballots. . . . Pennsylvanians in the armed forces found themselves able to vote, however, regardless of where they were, thanks to the foresight of the 864 legislators.

Gene Smith, director of the state elections bureau, said it was perfectly feasible now to permit absentee voting—common practice in numerous states. . . . Smith said that before the election law was codified in 1937, it was difficult for many districts to handle absentee ballots. . . . There was no reason now, he said, why absentee voting should not be permitted. . . . A cumbersome system must now be used to permit military men outside the state to vote. . . . Special election booths must be set up for them. . . . Absentee balloting would simplify the system now used and permit civilians also to vote when absent from their homes on election day.

The Milk Control Commission is expected to ask the legislature, which convenes in January, to amend milk laws to permit the commission to regulate dealers who buy milk under consignment contracts.

The State Supreme Court recently ruled that there was nothing in the law permitting the commission to regulate these transactions. . . . Commissioner John J. Snyder said the commission would ask the State Supreme Court for a re-hearing and if that is rejected to appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court on constitutional grounds.

Pennsylvania's 1940 election is featured by the greatest number of eligible voters in the commonwealth's history. . . . More than 5,000,000, or approximately half the state's population, are able to vote. . . . The record enrollment resulted from intensive fall registration drives carried on by the Democratic and Republican parties. . . . The G.O.P. amassed a 200,000 increase over last April, bringing their registration to approximately 2,175,000—an increase of some 100,000 over the 1936 registration. . . . In 1936, more than 4,194,000 were registered and qualified to vote.

The state senate may be asked to decide next January whether Sen. Harry Shapiro, Philadelphia, would be seated for a third term, provided he is re-elected. . . . The Philadelphia registration commission ruled that Shapiro, Democratic senatorial minority leader, could not vote in the district he was running on the grounds he was not a resident of that district. . . . The commission was overruled by Judge Curtis Bok. . . . The senate has the last decision, however, as it is sole judge of members.

Navy Office Now Recruiting Here On Unlimited Basis

United States Navy Offers
Many Opportunities To Enlisted Men

Young men between the ages of 18 and 31, although registered for selective service, are eligible to volunteer for enlistment in the United States Navy, D. C. Ritchie, New Castle Recruiter announced today.

The Navy Recruiting Office in New Castle, is now recruiting men on an unlimited basis, but adheres to the traditionally high physical, mental and moral standards the Navy has required in the past.

With the expansion of the Navy to a two ocean fleet, as now authorized, plus the requirements of increased shore establishments to maintain this fleet, it is estimated the enlisted strength of our Navy will rise from approximately 162,000 at the present, to 400,000 in the next four years.

The hour for rapid advancement in the Naval Service is here, greater than ever before imaginable. Through the Navy, trade schools are maintained where the man who wants to push ahead can learn a trade, one that adds to his pay while in the Navy and will stand him in good stead if, and when, he takes off his uniform.

Those who make the Navy a career, may after 20 years of service, transfer to the Fleet Reserve and return to civil life with a retainer pay of $63 per month which increases substantially after completing 30 years combined active and fleet reserve service.

Predicts Willkie Will Carry State By About 233,200

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—William H. Harman, chairman of the Associated Willkie clubs of Pennsylvania, today predicted that Wendell Willkie will carry Pennsylvania by 233,200 votes in Tuesday's presidential election.

"After learning the results of a very careful survey made by Willkie club workers throughout the state," Harman said, "I am confident that our 36 electoral votes will be in the Willkie column. Our estimate of a 233,200 plurality is an inside figure based on a cross section of each county as reported to state headquarters by our county chairmen."

"According to our analysis, 58 of the 67 counties will show Willkie majorities, and our Willkie clubs, under the able direction of their county chairmen, are still battling for the remaining nine."

I Believed in You— President Roosevelt

I am one of the millions of Americans, Mr. Roosevelt, who voted for you in 1932 and again in 1936.

Because I believed in you.

You had done so many things I thought should be done.

The courage you showed in meeting the crises in 1933 won my admiration.

Your directness won my respect.

I was so certain you were sincere.

I was for you 100%.

THEN SOMETHING HAPPENED

It was soon after 1936.

You began to change.

Your actions lost their directness. Your ways ceased to be those of a courageous President, and became those of a devious, self-seeking politician.

You became impatient and spiteful with those who did not "yes" you.

Those whom you could not dismiss, you attempted to purge, Nazi-fashion.

I was sorry to see this change in you. And at first I tried to shrug it off as politics.

But then you included the Supreme Court in your efforts to purge the government—our government—of all challenge to your authority. And then I was worried.

What has happened to our President, I wondered.

Could it be that you, like so many of the world's rulers, were infected with that ugly craving for personal power?

Could it be that you, like those others, were intent on perpetuating yourself in office?

I refused to believe it.

Because you see, Mr. President, I still wanted to believe in you.

THEN WAR BROKE OUT IN EUROPE

And again you made me proud of you.

I forgot about your purges. I forgot about the Supreme Court business.

I liked the way you handled our foreign affairs. He is the brilliant forthright leader I thought he was, I told myself. He is the man that I have believed in.

About that time, the third term whispers began to take shape.

And at first I dismissed them.

President Roosevelt, I said, is American to the core. He would not attempt to destroy such an important and thoroughly American tradition.

He knows like the rest of us that the two-term tradition is part and parcel of our democratic system—like the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

He knows that you can't have continuous one-man rule and escape the slavery of dictatorship.

And so, President Roosevelt, because I believed in you, I was certain you would renounce a third term.

Besides, hadn't you yourself declared that no man is indispensable? Hadn't you yourself paid your respects to the no-third-term tradition?

As the Chicago Convention approached, I began to worry about your silence.

But, I argued, it is probably just good politics. It's probably smart not to show your hand.

THEN CAME THE CHICAGO CONVENTION!

I was there but—I don't like to remember it—it was sickening.

I don't like to remember the spectacle of your personal messengers—men high in the government—men whom I had thought above skullduggery. I don't like to remember the spectacle of them conniving and bargaining for your renomination with the most corrupt political bodies in America.

I don't like to remember the merciless knifing that was administered, with your approval, to the man who made you politically, who had stood by you through thick and thin—to your own loyal friend—Jim Farley.

But most of all, I don't like to remember your message to that Chicago Convention.

You know the one I mean. The one Senator Barkley read, telling why you thought you must run again.

Apparently a lot of people have forgotten that message. I haven't, and I never will.

I heard it in the Convention Hall. As I listened, I was ashamed. Ashamed that the man I had been so proud of could stoop to such blatant hypocrisy.

And as I listened I felt something inside of me die.

IT WAS MY BELIEF IN YOU

Nothing you can do now, Mr. Roosevelt, can revive that trust again. It's dead.

No actions of yours, however brilliant, can wipe out the insincerity and hypocrisy of your renomination. No words, however bold and charming, can restore that faith which only simple honesty can breed.

I like brilliance, and I like charm.

But I like honor a lot more.

And so, Mr. Roosevelt, I shall not vote for you again.

Dr. Daffoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

EATING TO LIVE
I don't think there is any argument about this: a great many persons shorten their lives by over-eating. Probably more than die of starvation or want of proper food. You can, most assuredly, prolong your life by the way you select your diet and control the quantities you eat.

This is no new discovery by any means. Centuries ago, when man had none of our knowledge of vitamins, calories and such, and when there was a great deal less food for anybody, it became a proverb: "Thou shouldst eat to live; not live to eat."

It is probably true that the majority of those who overeat do so not because of overpowering gluttony but simply as a matter of habit. They acquire bad eating habits at the family table in childhood and like so many other habits formed in childhood these are difficult to change in adulthood.

In the average home, it appears, the food preferences or prejudices of the adults dictate the fare for the whole family. The children are the parents in their manner of eating and the quantities they eat, although there is a great deal of difference between the food requirements of children and adults. If they don't eat as the parents think they should, i. e., like themselves, the latter are likely to get the idea that something is wrong with Johnny's appetite or that he needs urging to eat, with the result that he is stuffed with rich, tempting dainties and encouraged to get in the habit of stoking food like a lumberjack.

It is a good idea for children to have separate tables or mealtimes if it is possible for the homemaker to arrange it. It is much easier to develop proper food habits that way. The fact is, that left to decide for themselves, children are pretty sensible about their eating. If feeding the children separately means too much work for the homemaker, then the food needs of the children should be given first consideration at the family table. In other words, the parents should eat in accordance with the children's requirements, instead of compelling the children to copy the adult's habits.

At the Daffoe Nursery, the Quintuplets have meals with adults, as part of their social training, but the adults are "guests" at the table. The diet is prepared to satisfy and please the Quintuplets, while supplying them with the elements they require for proper growth. However, this works no hardship on the adults. To the contrary. They get only proper foods at these meals, and since their servings are the same as the children's, they don't overeat.

Tomorrow, in this space, I'll give a week of Quintuplet menus that may serve as a helpful guide to both children and parents anxious to prevent both overweight and under-nourishment.

DAILY DOZEN
(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)
The ancients believed the blood contained the vital spirit. So they adventured with blood transfusion—but unsuccessfully. The first accredited blood transfusion was performed in 1854. This was from one animal to another.

The first successful transfusion between humans took place in 1867. Transfusion did not become a general practice until about 1907.

It was discovered that some bloods would not mix. Blood from a healthy person, if of wrong type, killed the other. Persons now receive that type of blood which matches their own. Transfusions are used to replace great blood loss.

Also, to offset certain types of cell changes. Hospitals now have reserves of all types of blood for emergency.

John E. Laurel, of Forest street, sustained a leg injury, while on his way home from his place of business, Saturday evening. Walking along the sidewalk, near the intersection of Butler avenue and Ray street, a large stone was catapulted from a rapidly passing car, struck him on the calf of the left leg, he reports. He collapsed to the sidewalk, where he remained for some time, before being able to proceed to his home. He suffered much pain Sunday, and is getting around with difficulty today.

Both Camps Claim Pittsburgh Victory
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Both camps predicted victory today in normally strong Democratic Allegheny County home grounds of State Committee David L. Lawrence and United States Sen. Joseph P. Guffey.
Democratic County Chairman B. B. McGinnis said "we will have as large a plurality for Roosevelt as four years ago—180,000."
Republican County Chairman Frank J. Harris, while refusing to estimate figures, said that the "tidal wave" will carry Willie and the Republican ticket to a well-earned majority here.

News Briefs From City Hall
When Patrolman Harry Reese wants to get anyone's goat he usually gets it but not always does he sustain a laceration while so doing. He set out yesterday to get somebody's goat in South Jefferson street. The goat charged Reese and rammed the policeman. However, like all those who resist, Mr. Goat was captured and is now an inmate of Cell No. 2, city police jail.
City police are searching for someone who needs furniture; that is furniture they do not acquire by legal methods. Clues Lacking In Swamp Case

Finding Of Skeleton Adds
Another Unsolved Mystery To Area

State and county authorities to-day possessed no clues which might lead to the identity of the person whose skeleton was found by a hunter in a swamp near West Pittsburg, Saturday.

The hunter, Mike Seman, of West Pittsburg, found a skull and later state motor police, County Detective Paul Welsh and Constable Walter Bannan of West Pittsburg, found the remainder of the skeleton 40 feet distant.

The bones were sent to a local morgue. District Attorney John G. Lemoree hopes through an examination of the bones, to discover if the remains are those of a male and the age of the person.

On the skull was found several sandy hairs.

The slaver who used a knife, according to authorities, to decapitate his victim, also removed the victim's clothing after which efforts were made to destroy the body by a fire which went out before it set fire to small logs placed atop the victim.

Several squads of searchers travelled through the swamp Sunday. One was headed by State Motor Policeman R. O. McCullough. The other was composed of civilians with hunting dogs. However, no additional victims of the slaver were found.

Creoles are not mulattoes, but white people, the descendants of white families long settled in a tropical colony.

Rev. W. A. Thornton Presents His Ideas

Discusses "If I were A Presidential Candidate?" On Sunday Evening

Speaking last night at Epworth Methodist church on the subject "If I Were a Presidential Candidate," Rev. William A. Thornton asserted that in an hour of admitted national crisis and world emergency he would confess an utter and complete dependence on Almighty God for it was a certain thing that no man, however qualified, without divine aid could never be equal to the demands of this hour.

Furthermore, said the speaker, that dependence upon the divine would take the form of a thoroughgoing commitment to "God's way upon earth" with a real endeavor to use all power and influence made possible by such an exalted position to bring about an era of love, brotherhood, understanding and peace in the place of hate, prejudice, antagonism and fratricidal strife.

Were I a presidential candidate in a day like this I would be in bigger business than that of personal and political reclamation. Nero fiddling while Rome burned had nothing on some who pose as statesmen in perilous times like these. Neither would I put myself on a level with leaders leading the world in a welter of destruction and engulfing mankind in a flood tide of misery nor would I give any impression that I sought to lead this nation along the same paths. In season and out of season I would cry aloud concerning the folly and the fertility of war and all that goes with it and comes after it, and in my leadership endeavor to show to the world the more excellent way.

Were I a presidential candidate I would endeavor to conserve and preserve at all costs the characteristics and qualities of American life which have made America unique, independent and free. I would believe, too, that God had made possible to America a greater destiny than that given to any other people of the world in this age and count it the highest privilege and the greatest responsibility that could come to anyone as a leader of this great people in this great hour to have a part in making America so successful as a great democratic experiment that it would for ever be an example and inspiration to all the rest of mankind.

Ellwood High Defeats New Brighton 14-7

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—For the third successive year, the Ellwood City high school football team on Saturday afternoon at Lincoln field defeated the New Brighton high gridders with the final score being 14 to 7, the fifth win of the season for the Croft-Gills machine.

For a team that was "supposed to be a cinch," the Oak Hillers looked mighty strong defensively times and in the third quarter when the score was tied at 7-7, the luckless visitors' stock rose considerably in the eyes of Ellwood's football fans.

Matrangoli, who played a superb game from every angle, led the parade of the Ellwood gridiron paladins. Hitting the visitors' line with vengeance he scored both touchdowns for Ellwood; with as accurate precision as the naval observatory he kicked both the extra points; with sureness, he heaved the two deadly passes that paved the way for the winning touchdowns; stepping up his stride to pass two of his teammates he ended Jackson's 97-yard run by forcing him out of bounds on the Ellwood five, and in addition to all those outstanding feats he was in on a number of important tackles and in the last part of the game punted for the Blue and White.

The attendance was the smallest of the year; however the bleachers were well filled with fans who disregarded a sunless sky and chilling wind to watch their favorite gridsters in action.

Early in the first quarter, the locals scored. Reino received New Brighton's kick-off and the locals had the ball on their own 35. DeCaria and Matrangoli made a first and then Reino staged a "coffin corner kick" and New Brighton took the ball on their own three. Jackson got off a poor kick and Ellwood again had the ball on the 27. Reino's pass was intercepted by Jackson on his ten and he returned it to the 27 before being stopped by Presto.

Unable to gain, Jackson punted and the kick was blocked by Hughes and Ellwood again had the ball on the visitors' 27. In nine successive plays Matrangoli hitting away at the Gibson coached line finally went over from the 6-inch line to score. He placed the extra point. The rest of the half was uneventful.

Beginning the second half, Klear received Ellwood's kick-off and returned it to the 36 before Taylor stopped him. In the next play came the game's most exciting and thrilling play as Jackson took a reverse from Fazio, leaving a bewildered Ellwood crew in his wake, and raced 64 yards down field before Matrangoli, passing two other Ellwood players, made a breath taking forward surge to force Jackson out of bounds. With only five yards to go to reach pay dirt, the Ellwood line tightened admirably and held. On fourth down Jackson attempted to pass. DeCaria, Ellwood half, instead of batting down the ball, intercepted the pass on the goal line and began to run with the ball and fumbled when he was tackled on the Ellwood 4. This time the Crimson Tide was not to be denied and with Balik and Jackson hitting the left side of the Ellwood line pushed the ball over on fourth down from the one-yard marker. Irwin kicked the extra point and the score was tied.

Tying the score really put both teams in high gear and from then on every play was hard fought.

As the fourth quarter began Ellwood took the ball on a punt on the New Brighton 45. Reino passed to Tammaro for 14 yards and DeCaria hit right tackle for four more. Tammaro shot another pass to Tammaro and Ellwood was 14 yards nearer their goal line. In another play or two Matrangoli again successfully passed to Tammaro.

Andrew Wolfe Dies Suddenly

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—Andrew Wolfe, aged 43 years, died suddenly on Sunday morning at 1:30 o'clock at the home of his brother, Frank Wolfe, 1225 Lawrence avenue, with whom he resided. Mr. Wolfe was stricken with a heart attack.

He had lived here for many years and was associated with his brother in conducting a grocery store in the West End.

In addition to the brother, Frank, he is survived by another brother, Salvatore of this city; and five sisters, Mrs. Antonetti Bonelli, of Akron, Mrs. Concetta Statti, Mrs. Geraldine Maggi, Mrs. Minnie Proce and Mrs. Mary Douds, all of this city.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from the Blessed Virgin Mary church, in Fourth street. Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano will officiate with interment to be made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Hughes, Presto and Pishonieri were exceptionally good in Ellwood's line and Tammaro, end, made three exceptionally good catches of the winning touchdowns. The backfield luminary has already been mentioned. Rubino's Ellwood blocking quarter sustained a shoulder injury during the latter part of the game.

Five Injured In Auto Crash

Hit-Run Driver Said To Have Been Cause Of Serious Accident Here Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—A hit and run driver, state police said, was the cause of a serious accident on the Ellwood-Beaver Falls road on Saturday afternoon sending five local people, all suffering from painful injuries to the local hospital.

Those injured were: Scott and Ethel Stephenson, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephenson, of Frisco, occupants of the first car; and Alex Yanko, Crescent avenue; Toffi Skrobecki, Center avenue; and George Uraski, North 15th street, occupants of the second car driven by Yanko.

The accident occurred near the former Helling farm about 1:30 o'clock. Yanko told state police that he was traveling in the direction of Beaver Falls and that he lost control of his car when another car, going in the same direction, in passing him struck his left rear fender. Yanko, police report, struck the Stephenson car, traveling in the opposite direction in a head-on crash, badly damaging both cars.

The scene of the accident is the crest of a hill which is also a bad curve. State Patrolman Mato, who investigated, said that the back of the Yanko car was damaged bearing out Yanko's story that he had been hit by another car, which failed to stop.

Scott Stephenson suffered torn ligaments in his arm, deep face cuts and had his front teeth knocked out. His sister, Ethel, sustained a fracture, and other severe cuts. Skrobecki has a fractured leg. Uraski, deep neck lacerations, face and body bruises and Yanko has a broken rib and other chest injuries. They are all suffering from other bruises and shock with their condition being reported as "fair" by hospital attendants.

PERFORMER LOSES THUMB BUT GOES ON WITH SHOW: (International News Service) PHILIPSBURG, Pa. — Spartan stoicism is not dead.

At the recent Osceola Mills Firemen's Fair, Torrence and Victoria, former featured aerialists with Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus, were going through their act—Torrence swinging from a trapeze by his feet and holding his spinning wife by a rubber strap which they both clamped with their teeth.

As the pair whirled dizzyly 100 feet in the air, Torrence's thumb caught in the ropes. The thumb was ripped off completely and fell to the ground amidst gasping spectators.

Torrence stifled a cry which would have plunged his wife to certain death. With blood spurring from the injured hand, Torrence kept his grip on the rubber strap until an assistant climbed up and lowered them with a rope.

Canadians Now Guard Outposts

Canadian Troops Are Stationed At Newfoundland And Iceland

CANADA READY FOR INVADERS

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

OTTAWA, Canada, Nov. 4.—Concrete evidence that Canada is doing its share in the program of cooperative defense in the Western Hemisphere is furnished by reports of Dominion troop concentrations in the North American outposts of Newfoundland and Iceland.

Although Canada is not a participant in the joint defense measures being worked out by the 21 American republics, the Dominion Government is ready to meet any invader who seeks to gain a foothold in the New World through the north.

Fears of an enemy thrust at Iceland prompted Great Britain to move armed forces to this island near the Arctic region. For some time Canadian troops have been stationed in Iceland.

Status Of Newfoundland

Newfoundland, off Canada's east coast eventually may be given the status of a Canadian province. Such a step is favored by many officials on the theory that it would simplify defense plans for the eastern area. Some Canadian forces already are stationed in Newfoundland.

The patrol of Atlantic waters by Canadian naval craft as well as concentrations of land forces near strategic coastal areas are believed to have been discussed by the joint U. S.-Canadian Defense Board established after the historic railroad car conference between President Roosevelt and Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King at Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Meanwhile Canada's national defense effort appears to be moving along at a considerably more rapid pace than that of the United States. After some months of inaction, the Dominion government has cut red tape and moved rapidly in mobilizing its resources of manpower and materials.

Intensive recruiting has brought the country's non-permanent active militia up to the authorized war strength of 88,000 men. Voluntary enlistment for this branch of the military has been suspended.

Draft Step Is Next

Under the National Resources Mobilization Act, the government now will draft men between 21 and 22 years of age. There are about 190,000 men of this age in the Dominion, some of whom already are in the militia. Those drafted will be given military training for 30 days and attached to a militia unit.

Considerable progress is reported by officials in the British Commonwealth. Air training plan under which Canada will contribute approximately $350,000,000.

Work is going forward on development of large airfields and training depots from coast to coast. A total of 71 aeronautical centers are being set up for various aviation activities including preliminary training, bombing, gunnery, navigation, reconnaissance and wireless.

Canadian pilots already are serving with the British Royal Air Force and many more will be dispatched overseas at the conclusion of their training.

County's First Draft Quota 8

According to announcement sent out from Harrisburg today over the I. N. S. wires, the first quota for Lawrence County for the November draft call will be eight men, four from New Castle and four from the county.

MURDER RATIO GOES UP ALONG WITH BUSINESS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH—Murders increase proportionately with the upswing of business, Dr. Walter A. Lunden, assistant sociology professor at the University of Pittsburgh claims. In an article entitled, "The Murder Cycle and the Business Cycle" Dr. Lunden demonstrated by tables that "the curve for murders has moved with the business index more than 52 per cent of the possible variations."

He followed this up with: "If economic determination is to be taken as an important factor in explaining the statistics on murders, it can be said that prosperity increases murders and depressions decrease them."

Dr. Lunden further averred statistically that the highest homicide rate per 100,000 population was in southern cities.

He reported Memphis with 62.3 and Boston with 3.1 per 100,000, based on 1939 murders and the 1930 census.

VOTE AGAINST SUNDAY MOVIES

Do you favor the conducting, staging, operating and exhibiting of motion pictures, regardless of whether an admission charge is made or incidental thereto, or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct, stage, operate or exhibit the same after 2 o'clock post meridian on Sunday?

NO X

THE PITTSBURGH CATHOLIC, OFFICIAL CATHOLIC PAPER, SAYS:

"The sole purpose of the industry, in asking for this privilege (Sunday movies), is to enable it to make more money; it is a commercial project . . . it is to secure income for the owners. Why should this privilege of making money on Sunday, that is denied by law to the butcher, the storekeeper, the baker, the manufacturer, be granted to the Hollywood outlets? Atheism, Communism and Nazism are all engaged in trying to make Sunday 'like any other day'; this referendum offers an opportunity for those who believe in God to resist the attack on religion by voting 'NO'."

(Edition of Oct. 31, 1940)

THE HOLY BIBLE SAYS:

"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." Do you believe that Hollywood in its drive to dictate morals is a safe guide on moral issues? Have the "free thinkers" of Europe made "better towns" for the people? The movies are open for business on six days and six nights. Do you believe that this drive for commercialized amusement on Sunday will strengthen the character of our young people? The Protestant Church appeals to all citizens to consider the issue thoughtfully and vote "NO" on Sunday movies.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS JOHNSTOWN 13 TO 0

Westminster Wins From Geneva 6-0

(Special To The News)

BEAVER FALLS, Nov. 4.—Westminster college's fighting Titans gridgers upset the dope by downing the Geneva eleven 6-0 in the annual Homecoming Day battle here Saturday afternoon.

Although outplayed, with regard to first downs, the Westminster team was tough in the pinches and took full advantage of the breaks of the game to defeat Geneva for the first time in eleven years.

Geneva scored 14 first downs to Westminster's three, but their fumbles and Westminster's exceptional pass defense marked the Covenanters' downfall.

Late in the first period, Chalmer Zech, Titan right end, recovered Susko's fumble on the 45 yard line. Tony Valicenti, Westminster captain and right halfback, tossed a short pass to Washabaugh, left end, that was good for eight yards. On the next play, Valicenti again passed to Washabaugh who was pulled down by Hart, Geneva safety-man, after he had gone twenty-eight yards. With first and goal to go, on the ten yard line, Riggie hit the left side of the line for two yards. Riggie again smashed the line for no gain. F. Demoise took the ball over left tackle and carried it up to the four yard stripe.

With last down and the ball resting midway between the sidelines, Captain Valicenti went back as if to kick a field goal. The pass from center came directly to Valicenti, who faded to his right and threw a flat pass to Evanoff, Titan quarterback. Evanoff made a spectacular diving catch of the pass, landing about a foot over the goal line for the score. Valicenti's pass to Riggie, Titan fullback, for the extra point was incomplete.

The game then settled down to a grueling battle in mid-field with the Titans holding when ever the chips were down, or the Covenanters' fumbling the ball when a touchdown was given them.

Neither team seriously threatened their opponent's goal, except in the last quarter, when Demoise's kick to Peters, Geneva safety-man, was fumbled and Zech recovered the ball on the Geneva 35 yard line. Demoise ran one into the line, as did Riggie, and Valicenti's long pass to Washabaugh was knocked down, so Westminster was forced to kick on the fourth down.

Geneva never got inside the Westminster 20 yard line in the whole second half.

Evanoff's catch of Valicenti's pass for the touchdown was the outstanding play for the game.

Tony Valicenti was the running star of the game, with Tack and Riggie's backing up of the Westminster line the highlight of the afternoon's defensive play.

Felix Demoise's punts set the Geneva team back on its heels all afternoon. His high spirals angling for the sidelines was an essential feature of the Westminster victory.

Ferr, Jersey, Hart, and Susko, were the outstanding players on the Geneva team, with Susko getting away for some good run-back of punts.

McKee Suffers Broken Leg In Johnstown Game

The injury jinx is still following young Freddie McKee, the stellar New Castle quarterback, this time it's his leg and a small bone was broken in the fourth quarter of the game Saturday at Johnstown, when Freddy was clipped from behind. He is now in the Jameson hospital.

It was in the Johnstown game last year here that McKee suffered a broken finger.

Dr. Ralph Markley, team doctor, attended McKee in Johnstown, and supervised the taking of pictures when the team returned home. McKee will be in the hospital for four or five days, but Freddy will probably not play football again for New Castle high. He is one of the finest young signal callers and blockers that New Castle has had for some time.

McKee will not want for company while in the hospital, as he is a great favorite at New Castle high.

Report Eagle And Crows In Battle

While visiting recently at Pymatuning Dam, Owen Fox, Emerson avenue, and Nick Casillo, of West Winter avenue, saw a battle royal in the air, between a golden eagle and a number of crows. It made them think of fighting airplanes.

Doubtless the crows knew by instinct, that the eagle destroyed some forms of wildlife, and perhaps pick them off singly, if opportunity presented itself, as the dictators have done with the small countries of Europe, so they thought best to gang up on this powerful enemy, unitedly.

The crows were relentless in their attack upon the eagle. The latter would drop down like a plummet, then soar high into the air, with the crows always in pursuit.

After much harassing and pecking by the black "spitfires," the eagle finally escaped, by finally soaring rapidly to a great height, out of range of pursuit by its daring enemies.

Ciazza-Roberts Score Touchdowns

New Castle Registers Eighth Win Of Season Saturday At Point Stadium In Johnstown; Both Touchdowns Result From Statue Of Liberty Play; Several Hundred Ride Special Train To Flood City; Crowd Of Over 6,000 At Game.

EVERTING to the Statue of Liberty play on two occasions, the New Castle high football team defeated Johnstown high Saturday at Johnstown's Point Stadium 13 to 0. A crowd of over 6,000 fans including several hundred from New Castle, witnessed the game.

It was the eighth win of the year for the New Castle team, and the fourth Class AA win. Johnstown had been beaten three times previously.

Johnstown had the better of the going in the first period, carrying the ball deep into New Castle territory but losing it on a fumble near the 10-yard line. Bucci kicked out of danger and the teams battled back and forth in the middle of the field. The first period ended with New Castle having the ball on their own 25-yard line.

Near the end of the second period New Castle got the ball as a result of a punt by Chupko on their own 47-yard line. Three New Castle players put the ball on the Johnstown 40 and from this spot Lee faded back and handed the ball to Ciazza who raced the left end for the first marker. Adamo's try for an extra point was wide of the bars. New Castle 6, Johnstown 0, and the first half ended in this manner.

Johnstown never came close to the New Castle goal after that opening period thrust. New Castle did not threaten in the third either, being penalized a number of times.

Roberts Tallies
New Castle scored its final touchdown in the fourth period, working the ball to the Johnstown 46-yard line, after an exchange of punts. New Castle called on the Statue of Liberty again and this time Ciazza raced to the Johnstown two-yard line before he was hauled down. Roberts on the next play crashed over for the touchdown.

For the extra point following the last touchdown, Adamo elected to cross up the Johnstown team, and instead of kicking as usual, he passed to Al Bucci, who was standing over the goal line waiting for it. New Castle 13, Johnstown 0.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh at this point gave his regulars a rest, and had Joe Izzo at fullback for Lee, and Gennock at quarter for McKee. Peters and Parou were the only other New Castle subs used.

Locals Lead On Downs
In the matter of first downs New Castle led 9 to 5. Eight times the New Castle team punted, in protecting their lead that they had gained in the early part of the game. The field was slippery as a result of the Friday night rain, it being a dirt field.

Johnstown had a big team, with Makar and Chupko the mainstays in the backfield. On the Johnstown line the work of Siembak and Torchia was the best.

The New Castle victory evened up the series at two all, and gives New Castle revenge for the 12 to 7 defeat last year.

Chuck Peifer and Jack Peifer, brothers, share the right tackle position on the Marquette football team.

Selected Shorts: D. C. Ritchie, officer-in-charge of the New Castle navy recruiting station, is one of Ken Overlin's staunchest rooters and closest friends. Ritchie and the current middleweight champion lived in the same neighborhood, attended the same schools and were almost inseparable. That was in Decatur, Ill. The combine was temporarily split when Ritchie enlisted in the navy. Overlin quickly followed suit.

During the career, both selected boxing as a sideline. Overlin showed promise the first time he donned the gloves, Ritchie asserted. He continued displaying amazing progress and then chose the mitt sport as a livelihood, the navy officer said. With gloves under his arms, Overlin went on his way, while Ritchie settled down to home life, a wife and family.

Bessemer High has won the Lawrence county class B football championship ever since A. G. Capemuti, the ex-Slippery Rock athlete, took over the coaching reins, back in 1933. Bessemer's squad consists, season on November 22.

CAMPBELL HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

The New Castle-Campbell grid game set at the start of the year for either Friday, November 8, or Saturday the 9th, depending on the weather, will be played this coming Friday night at Taggart Stadium, instead of Saturday, it was announced as Senior High today. Ticket Manager Robert Mills has already placed tickets on sale at the Sporting Goods store.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jackie Wilson, lightweight, taught and managed by Jimmie Dunn, who is living in West Hollywood, Cal., has beaten all the lightweights on the west coast and because the Pacific promoters will not send east for lightweight Dunn plans during the next few months to not only bring Jackie but also Ritchie Fontaine, another lightweight, and Red Nibert east, he stated in a letter to the writer today. He said only sizable purses are drawn at the Olympic in Los Angeles and it is so costly to operate it is too big for weekly shows. Eddie Summs is back on the coast. Dunn said he is able to keep his boxers going but the better boys in his stable have fought themselves out of western opponents.

The Moose team is heading the Industrial Tenpin league, being three matches ahead of the Royals and the Pitts and Pennsylvania Power are tied for the leadership in the City Tenpin league.

OHIO GRIDDER INJURED SUNDAY

John Zbari, 414 North Center street, Youngstown, is confined to the New Castle hospital suffering with a right leg injury sustained in yesterday's football game between the Tigers' engagements with Florida, in Columbus, on Nov. 30 and Villanova, in Montgomery, on Dec. 7. The executive council will dismiss all classes the days of these two grid tilts.

Chuck Peifer and Jack Peifer, brothers, share the right tackle position on the Marquette football team.

Grid Parade Moves Toward Finish Tape

From a gridiron week-end studded with Frank Merrivell finishes, story book like ends and heart-thumping goal line stands, close to a dozen undefeated and untied major elevens remained huddled in football's dream empire.

With the exception of a few upheavals, the parade ran true to form. As the pig-pelt panorama nears the finish tape, the following bigwigs have untarnished records:

Minnesota, Michigan, Stanford, Boston college, Tennessee, Notre Dame, Texas A. & M., Cornell, Georgetown and Penn State.

Wildcats Sink
In the top clash of the day, Minnesota's Gophers, paced by Bruce Smith and George Frank, preserved their slate by bowing over huffier undefeated and untied Northwestern, 13-12. A nerve-wracked crowd of 48,000 fans watched Minnesota record its fifth consecutive triumph. The victory was the first for the Gophers in Evanston since 1929. Ohio State finally found the winning formula. The Buckeyes, aided by several early breaks, flattened Indiana 21-6. Cornell further emphasized its greatness by wallowing never-say-die-up Columbia eleven, 27-0. In a wild battle Purdue convincingly wiped out Iowa, 21-6. In the other Big Nine clash, Wisconsin kayoed Illinois, 13-6.

Those undefeated and untied Notre Dame gridgers must have left their power at South Bend. For, in Saturday's game against Army, the Irish force was humiliated although it rolled a 7-0 edge. The Knights piled up 16 first downs against four for the supposed-to-be Notre Dame powerhouse. In winning, the Irish clan did not enhance its reputation as a "dream club."

SEES CIRCUSES
ON THE WAY OUT

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—The day of the circus clown virtually has come to an end.
So says Arthur Borella, for 40 years one of America's leading clowns. Borella himself has forsaken the big tent to lecture before clubs and schools on circus life.
"Circuses are becoming fewer and fewer," he said. "There are only two big shows left that travel by railroad, and the smaller wagon shows are dying out."
"Motion pictures, radio and auto travel taking small townships to the big cities for their enjoyment have done it. In addition, I think circuses charge too much."

Changes Narrow

Most Leaders Open Higher
But Settle Back Into Indecisive Trend

By LESLIE GOULD

Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The stock market today turned in a little pre-election day performance, with price changes narrow and mixed. Most leaders were higher at the opening, but before the end of the first hour the list settled back into an indecisive trend.

Typical of the general market movements were the swings in the steel shares. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem started fractionally higher, but slipped back to Saturday's closings later in the forenoon. Youngstown Sheet & Tube slipped fractionally.

Case and Eastman Kodak were independently soft, each losing about a point.

Motors, mail orders, electrical equipments and tobaccos generally ruled a shade higher. Rails, rubbers, coppers and chemicals were mixed.

Twelve Volunteer For Service With Local Board Two

One In Number Wishing To Enlist Is Under Age,
Board Reports

Attorney J. Elder Bryan, of Local Board No. 2, announced today that twelve volunteers have already registered with the board, expressing the preference of being the first to answer the summons from New Castle, when the first call is received here.

One of these, Homer Lee Langford, of 20 West Long avenue, was probably one of the first in the state of Pennsylvania to volunteer under the provisions of the Selective Service law, his application having been filed with the board on October 28, the day before the numbers were drawn in Washington.

One of those registered as a volunteer with the board is Daniel Mastropietro, of 821 Morton street, who is under the draft age, being but 20 years old.

Others who have registered are: Augustus F. White, of 114 E. Home street, October 28; Theodore Andrew, of 1107 Cunningham avenue, and Mike A. Boker, 1711 South Jefferson street, October 30; Daniel Mastropietro, of 821 Morton street; Andy Hudak, 1003 Hanna street; John Lombardo, 104 South Wayne street; Fred Iovannella, 101 South Cedar street; Joseph J. Ludwick, 1008 North Ashland avenue; Edward A. Wheale, 1206 South Jefferson street, October 31; Norman F. Strobel, 615 East Reynolds street, November 1; and Walter Joseph Boron, 1701 Hanna street, November 4.

Thus there are enough volunteers from this board alone to fill the first quota from Lawrence County.

With the addition of 185 names from those registered outside the city, the number of those enrolled with Local Board No. 2, has now reached 3,000.

Attorneys Will Aid Draftees

Attorney Robert White, named as the legal advisor to local board No. 1, selective service, today announced that 10 other attorneys and he would assist persons who receive questionnaires when they are asked to report to the board.

The draftees can take their questionnaires to Attorney White's office in North street, between seventh and eighth streets, at seven p. m. and nine p. m. after the questionnaires are received. The information desired will be written on the questionnaire.

The attorneys who will assist White are: C. A. Patterson, Mont L. Alley, Roy C. Jamison, Joseph Solomon, Edward Rea, Ralph Cooper, Kenneth McClure, Elmer O'Neill, William Hyde and Frank Morretti.

Hold back the years -to look well -to feel strong

Thousands know of the amazing benefits of S.S.S. Tonic to help build rich, red blood...to increase the appetite...to aid digestion

If you are past middle-life you will want to give particular attention to two important body functions—one, to keep your natural stomach digestive juices flowing...two, to keep your blood rich and healthy.

Frequently, as the years advance, the stomach becomes sluggish in pouring out its digestive juices to make use of the food eaten... likewise, wear and strain of worry, overwork, colds, and sickness often reduce one's blood strength.

Now you may rebuild your blood strength and restore sluggish stomach digestion, in the absence of an organic trouble or focal infection, with the famous S.S.S. Tonic.

S.S.S. acts two ways
In S.S.S. Tonic you go after the trouble in two ways... first you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion—thus making better use of the food you eat—secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you a boost in energy.

Join the happy thousands
S.S.S. may be just what you need to get you on the right road to health and happiness again... it helps build sturdy health... that's why so many say it "makes you feel like yourself again."
